Welcome note

Dear colleagues and friends,

It is our great pleasure to most cordially invite you to the 10th German Pharm-Tox Summit, which will be held from March 25-28, 2025 in Hannover. Hannover is easily reached from all parts of Germany and neighboring countries. After the great success of our last meeting in Munich, we strive at further developing our conference with high academic standards and ample opportunities for scientific exchange. We are particularly interested to provide scientific opportunities for junior scientists.

The GPTS is organized by the German Society for Experimental and Clinical Pharmacology and Toxicology (DGPT) together with several other scientific societies.

The scientific committee covers all fields of pharmacology and toxicology and will ensure that the program with three plenary talks, various symposia including one by the Paul-Martini-Foundation, many short talk and poster sessions will provide exciting insights into cutting edge topics of pharmacology and toxicology and enhance scientific exchange to initiate new collaborations.

The congress venue is located in building J2 of the Hannover Medical School (MHH) which is easily accessible by public transportation (Stadtbahnlinie 4, S-Bahn, Bus), car, bike and foot. It is compact and will guarantee that you can meet your colleagues in a relaxed manner. Particular emphasis will be paid on optimal poster presentation. The MHH is a hotspot for biomedical research in Germany and is in close proximity to the Fraunhofer Institute for Toxicology and Experimental Medicine ITEM that will substantially contribute to our meeting. Conveniently located hotels in the vicinity of the venue will make your stay in Hannover easy.

We look forward to meeting you in Hannover for a stimulating Pharm-Tox Summit!
